

Ecole Nationale Vétérinaire de Toulouse

A living campus in southwest France

Access map

If you are travelling by car

Take the "rocade ouest" (west ring road), leave it at exit 29 "Purpan" (see map below).
Head for "Purpan" until the "place Baylac" roundabout by the hospital entrance.
Follow the "route de Bayonne" toward "Carrefour" commercial centre.
Pass the commercial centre, cross the bridge over the "rocade", turn left immediately after the bridge into the "chemin des Capelles".
The College is 500m on your right hand side.

If you are using public transport

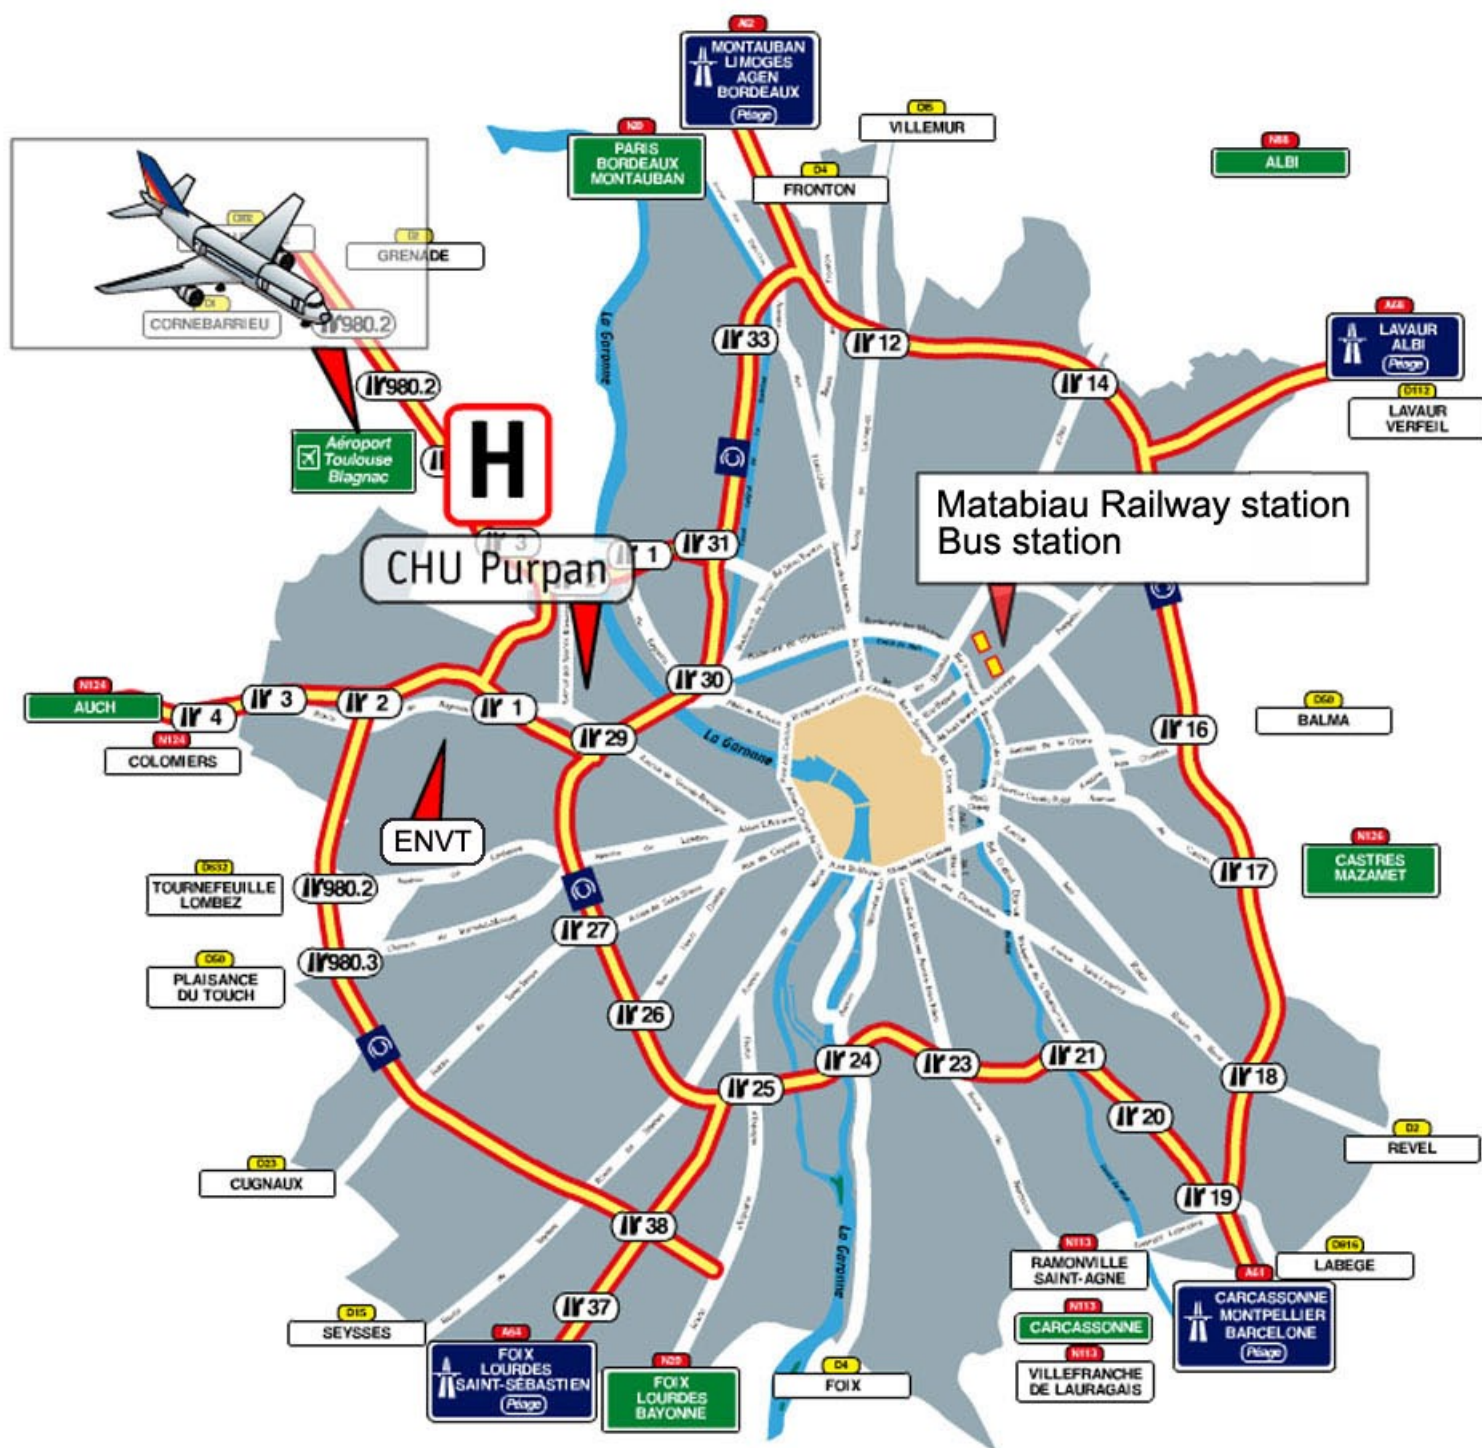

Take the underground or any bus line leading to "Les arènes" station.
Once there, using the same ticket :

either take bus line n°46 and get off at the "Ecole Vétérinaire" stop or take the TER train to the Gare de Lardenne station (a train every 15 minutes)

If you are flying to Toulouse and if you opt for renting a car

From the airport, take the dual carriageway to Toulouse, pass the first sign indicating "centre ville", keep driving until the second "centre ville" sign also indicating "purpan" and leave the dual carriageway at exit 1 (close to exit 29 on the map below).
Stay in the right lane and take exit 1 (centre ville purpan).
Pass two roundabouts and keep heading for "Purpan".
The third roundabout is located Place Baylac (hospital entrance).
Get on the "route de Bayonne" toward "Carrefour" commercial centre.
Pass the commercial centre, cross the bridge over the "rocade", turn left immediately after the bridge into the "chemin des Capelles".
The College is 500m on your right hand side.

Location

Toulouse in the heart of Midi-Pyrénées region

Greater Toulouse is the second biggest French university city. With its 110,000 students, it represents a dynamic environment, favourable studying conditions, and the enjoyable way of life in southwest France.

Cultural Toulouse

Music rivals in quality and diversity with the fine arts and the living arts, cinema and literature. Many different festivals and events give rhythm to the cultural life of the region, thus creating interaction among today's artistic trends.

The most characteristic feature of the ethos of Toulouse, second only to its devotion to sports, is "openness to others" and the passion for words, in all forms: songs, poetry, literature... the city is rich in authors and composers.

Variety is also what best defines the gastronomy of the region, its "terroirs" and countryside.

All this has made Toulouse a privileged setting for 40,000 companies and industries which have chosen to settle here, among which 10 have over 1,700 employees. Airbus, with its 16,500 employees, comes first.

ENVT at the heart of a scientific environment

Since Toulouse became a national pole of competitiveness in Health and Biotechnologies (Cancer-Bio-Santé) in 2005 and in Agriculture and Environment (Agrimip Innovation) in 2007, it has become a major site in terms of scientific and clinical research, in both the private and public sectors, attracting a great number of leading companies.

ENVT plays an important academic role in this expansion and in strengthening the links between public research and private companies.

Over 20,000 square meters of its campus have been dedicated to private laboratories and offices, thus welcoming 20 small companies and industries.

Additionally, ENVT has developed dual-accredited research programmes and qualifications (Masters and University Diplomas) with the universities of Toulouse and Montpellier.

ENVT, a regional actor

The school is deeply rooted in regional networks and is an active member of the Pôle Régional d'Enseignement Supérieur - Université de Toulouse, counting more than 15 higher education establishments in the region. ENVT is also a founder member of Toulouse Agri Campus, an association of institutions involved in "green education" (Institut National des Sciences Appliquées, Ecole Nationale Supérieure d'Agronomie, Ecole d'Ingénieurs de Purpan, Ecole Nationale de Formation Agronomique, Institut National de Recherche Agronomique).

ENVT, an international actor

The school interacts with its counterparts and partners outside the national territory, through international projects aimed at developing new qualifications and promoting both student and teacher mobility. Its goal is to play a role in the making of the European entity. It has signed Erasmus Agreements with 18 universities in 8 E.U. countries.

Beyond the European boundaries, ENVT has implemented international cooperation schemes through Tempus Programmes, and partnerships with numerous universities in Australia, Brazil, Mexico, Argentina, Morocco, Vietnam, etc. Foreign students from across the world are received every year.
